Hello, my name is Milly McGowan. I am currently attending college in the Northeast of England, and I have enjoyed being able to make my little contributions to this website. I hope that anyone who is interested in YMBM enjoys what has been written by myself and others. However, whilst I do have a passion for mathematics, it is not the only thing that I like to revolve myself around. Since I was eight, I have been playing the piano. It's been classical music mainly but after, hopefully, achieving my Grade 8 in 2024, I would like to branch out into other genres. I could only dream of being at Elton John's level but that's always something to strive for! Along with this, I really love reading at whatever chance I can get and, perhaps to many mathematicians' horrors, I'm an English Literature lover at heart. Hopefully, I would like to one day be able to say that I've read my fair share of gothic novels, such as The Vampyre and The Picture of Dorian Grey. Thank you to anyone who has taken time to read about me and I hope that you also enjoy exploring the different parts of this website!
